DETAILED ACTION

Page 2

Response to Amendments

Claims 32, 34 and 36-40 have been amended. Claims 1-31 and 33 are cancelled.

Claims 32 and 34-40 are pending.

Response to Arguments

I. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 32 and 36-40 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- II. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- III. Claims 32 and 34-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Carnahan (US 5,414,780) in view of Hattori et al (US 6,570,667) in further view of Mohtashemi et al (US 5,684,865).
 - a. Per claim 32, Carnahan teaches a color facsimile apparatus comprising:
 - reading means for line-sequentially scanning an original document in a main scanning direction with moving the original document in a sub scanning direction (col.5 lines 48-67, col.10 lines 58-67);

Application/Control Number: 09/597,146

- generating means for generating image data representing the original document (col.6 lines 1-43, col.7 lines 14-47, col.10 lines 24-32);
- buffering means for storing the image data generated by said generating means in a buffer (col.5 lines 46-67, col.7 line 67-col.8 line 4, col.8 lines 40-56, col.12 lines 36-61);
- extracting means for extracting as a minimum processing unit for JPEG compression processing, image data equivalent to one line in the main scanning direction of the original document from the buffer (col.11 lines 1-20, col.11 line 58-col.12 line 14);
- compressing means for executing JPEG compression processing for each unit of the extracted image data including the unit of the extracted image data in which the transmission information is overwritten after overwriting the transmission information by said overwriting means (col.11 lines 1-20, col.11 line 58-col.12 line 14);
- storing means for storing compressed data by said compressed mean in a memory (col.7 line 48-col.8 line 4, col.10 lines 24-32, col.12 lines 36-61) and
- transmitting means for transmitting a JPEG image data based on the compressed data stored in the memory (col.11 line 58-col.12 line 14, col.12 lines 49-61, col.14 lines 22-30).

Yet Carnahan fails to explicitly teach overwriting means for overwriting transmission information of image data for a page header or page footer in a unit of extracted data extracted by said extracting means when the unit of the extracted data is a unit in which the transmission information should be overwritten; wherein the JPEG image data includes the compressed data of the transmission information. However, Hattori et al teach overwriting transmission information of image data for a page header or page footer in a unit of extracted data extracted by said extracting means when the unit of the extracted data is a unit in which the transmission information should be overwritten (col.19 lines 38-56, col.24 lines 1-15, col.25 lines 2-57, col.39 line 33-col.40 line 28); while Mohtashemi et al teach (col.3 line 60-col.4 line

28) wherein the JPEG image data includes the compressed data of the transmission information (col.4 lines 30-40, col.5 lines 7-16, col.10 lines 4-44, col.11 line 46-col.12 line 10).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to combine the teachings of Carnahan with Hattori et al and Mohtashemi et al for the purpose of modifying the transmission data of the header of footer to indicate the current transmission status, while compressing the original document and the transmission data before faxing the document; since these are predictable and obvious steps in facsimile transmission which when implemented together achieve the claimed invention with reasonable expectation of success.

b. Claims 36 - 40 contain limitations that are substantially similar to claim 32 and are therefore rejected under the same basis.

Per claim 34, Carnahan with Hattori et al and Mohtashemi et al teach the color c.

facsimile apparatus according to claim 32, further comprising determining means for determining whether the unit of the extracted data is the unit in which the transmission information should be overwritten, and wherein said overwriting means overwrites the transmission information in the unit of the extracted data according to a determination of said determining means (Hattori et al—col.24 lines 1-15, col.25 lines 2-57, col.39 line 33-col.40 line

Per claim 35, Carnahan with Hattori et al and Mohtashemi et al teach the color facsimile apparatus according to claim 32, wherein the transmission information indicates at least one of a date, a time, and a number of pages (Hattori et al—col.19 lines 38-56).

Conclusion

IV. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to Applicant's disclosure: Weber (4135214).

V. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
